8 Original SPFs That Are Totally Shaking Up the Sunscreen Game

When spring and summertime roll around, the same tried-and-true bottles of sunscreen that just “get the job done” when it comes to sun protection always end up back in our shopping bags, but why stop there? These innovative, breakthrough options go one (or two) steps further than simply preventing sunburn and come in formulas you won't believe you once ever lived without.

Farmacy Green Screen SPF 30 ($36)

While most sunscreens focus on warding off UV rays, this one takes it one step further by protecting against blue light, the harmful light emitted from our computers and phones, which also causes damage and aging. The formula boasts Echinacea GreenEnvy—hence the name—and leaves behind a perfectly matte, never-white finish.
