At last, warmer days are here, bringing with them rosé-filled afternoons, lazy sunny weekends and, unfortunately, the occasional summer skin issue. Here to prevent the season's largest pitfalls, in the form of a dull, irritated, or breakout-prone complexions is a time-tested, model-approved solution that gets to work in just 10 minutes or less.

Then, she says, those with dry skin should reach for a gel or hyaluronic-packed sheet mask, like Neutrogena's deeply replenishing version or Glow Recipe's seasonally appropriate (and scented!) watermelon jelly formula—both are designed to cool and moisturize upon contact. For sensitive types, Fusco recommends
